MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS. Surprising Rise in Chicago Gas-Rest of the Market Feverish and Divided. NEW YORK, Dec. 4.-Money on call was close, ranging from 4 to 8 per cent., the last loan being made at 4, closing offered at 4. Prime mercantile paper, 512@712 per cent.

Sterling exchange quiet and fairly steady at $4.80 for sixty-day bills and $4.844 for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 328,-090 shares, including the following: Atchison, 5,825; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 48,525; Denver, Texas & Fort Worth, 3,056; Louisville & Nashville, 13,-830; Missouri Pacific, 21,560; Northwestern, 8,080; Northern Pacific preferred, 3,216;

Reading, 39,850; Richmond & West Point,

4,595; St. Paul, 21,400; Union Pacific. 11,310. There was less animation in the stock market, but the tone of dealings was not so strong as yesterday, and most of the list this evening are slightly lower. The natural tendency was evidently to rally, but the improvement was met by the "bears" with attacks on certain stocks which resulted in a feverish and divided market. Missouri Pacific was one of the weakest stocks on the list, although there was an effort made to make the street believe that insiders had been large buyers during the past week, and that the stock would go confirst brought upon New England, and it dropped off about 112 per cent., but the decline brought in what was considered good buying, and the rally left it but slightly lower than last evening. The pressure was continued upon the coal stocks, but while active they were held within narrow limits, and their final changes are insig-nificant, and, owing to the aban-donment of the attack, they were comparatively dull during the entire afternoon. The strong feature of the day was chicago Gas, which rose from 3814 to 4212 on covering of "shorts" and buying by the Chicago people. There was a story from the last-named place that a pool had been organized to squeeze the "shorts" in the stock, All of the advance was not held, but the stock made the most pronounced advance of the day. London was again a buyer of some of its favorites, and especially Louisville & Nashville and St. Paul, though the latter was weakened by the disappointment over the small increase in the earnings reported, and the former was raided down later in the day, when the support from the foreigners was withdrawn. The movement in Ontario & Western was reversed to-day, and it was one of the reversed to-day, and it was one of the weakest stocks in the regular list, on the report that Mr. Vanderbilt declined to receive proxies for the annual election. The news of the day was generally of a favorable character, but had little if any influence upon the course of prices. The opening was made at advances over last evening's figures, which extended to 5s per cent., but the attack upon New England checked the improving tendency immediately, and prices receded all over the room, the only strong feature being Cameron Coal, which was especially active for that stock, and rose from 5½ to 8. The general list recovered fully before noon, but the fluctuations were generally for slight fractions only, and the advance continued until well into the afternoon, under the lead of Chicago Gas. Prices then gave way all over the list, and the close was rather heavy, generally at something under the appairing prices.

ally at something under the opening prices. Most stocks, however, are fractionally Railroad bonds were quiet and strong, and the Kansas & Texas issues were again the strong feature during the forenoon, but reacted later in the day and all of the improvement was lost. The sixes furnished $360,000 out of the total $1,555,000. There was a rather heavy tone to the trading and declines are in a majority this evening, the most important losses being Chicago & Pacific sixes, 2, at 118; Chicago & Eastern Illinois consols, 2, at 122; Reading seconds, 314, at 55, and Hannibal and St. Joe consols at 117. There were a few advances, but they were of minor importance. Government and State bonds were dull and steady. Closing quotations were: Pacific 6s of '95...115

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Wheat and Corn Both Lose the Improvement of the Day Before-Dats Stronger. CHICAGO, Dec. 4 .- There was a very fair trade in a speculative way in wheat and prices ruled weak and lower all around. There was considerable selling of long wheat, and "shorts" covered moderate quantities. Foreigners, too, were reported as being buyers both here and at New York at the decline. Cable advices were generally steady and firm, and London noted 826d advance in Russian wheat Paris was also quoted firm, and 10c per barrel higher on flour. Operators who had bought yesterday expecting to sell at higher prices to-day were disappointed and became sellers and the offerings were liberal. The board's dispatch also noted 720,000 bu increase in the quantity of wheat on passage, and it was reported that stocks in the United Kingdom had increased about 1,000,000 bushel during the month. The export clearances were small. Receipts in the Northwest, although not as heavy as during the preceding week, still continue fairly large. There was talk of an increased movement of wheat from first hands in the Southwest but there is nothing in posted receipts as yet to show such a movement. The local market opened at about yesterday's closing figures, declined 78@1c, closed quiet and 34 @ 78c lower than yesterday. It was claimed that the weakness was partially the result of a combined bucket-shop raid on the market to force out some of their enstomers on long wheat held on slender margins. Corn was rather dull the greater part of the session, though early in the day a fair degree of activity was manifested. There was no new feature of importance developed outside of the free selling of December by a house supposed to be largely long, this being about the only feature worthy of note. The prevailing feeling was weaker. December in particular, the other futures ruling comparatively steady. The market opened at yesterday's closing prices, was easy. December selling off 112c, while other menths declined 14c. rallied a little and closed with December 38@ 12c and January and May 18@ 14c lower than yesterday. Oats were active, stronger and higher, December and January were the strongest, and advanced 42 3sc on several large buyers bidding for round lots. May advanced 4c. At the top operators who bought early began selling. A weaker feeling developed and prices declined slightly, but the last sales were at a small gain over yesterday's close. In pork a very fair light business was transacted and the feeling was steady.

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. Trade Good, with Firm Prices Prevailing on Most Staple Articles.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4. In all departments there was a good deal of activity to-day, and, with this, firm prices ruled on all staple articles. Of course, as the holidays approach, dealers in fancy goods and notions and confectioneries are the busiest merchants. The book stores, lard trading was only fair and the feeling was rather firm. Prices without material change. There is no particular change to note in the short-ribs market. Prices at $10. Lard neglected at 5.85\%5.90c. Bulk meats quiet and unchanged. Bacon quiet and unchanged. Bacon quiet and unchanged. Whisky firm; sales 1,329 bris fin-carry a strong, steady tone. Hog products are in better request, and prices ruling firmer. In the produce markets trade in very satisfactory. Apples, oranges, cranberries and most vegetables carry a firm tone, and some descriptions are advancing in tendency. Poultry is easy at quotations. Eggs scarce and firm. Butter, if choice, sells readily. Came scarce and in demand. Other markets are featureless.

There was a better feeling in the local market to-day, and on some grades of corn and oats a shade better prices could be realized. Receipts are still light. The track bids to-day ruled as Grading Farm Produce. Philadelphia Record. The proper condition of the article sent to market, and its appearance on arrival, is an important matter in securing the highest prices. One of the difficulties enhighest prices. One of the difficulties en-countered by commission merchants is the proper understanding by farmers of the quotations sent out by the merchants, those having produce for sale always taking the highest prices as the guide, and it some-times causes disappointment to the shipper when his articles fail to bring the highest prices quoted. As a rule there are both the lowest and highest prices given, and the merchant cannot sell an article at the higher figure unless it is choice. All ar-ticles sent to market vary in quality, and higher figure unless it is choice. All articles sent to market vary in quality, and purchasers sometimes have a large supply from which to select. The greater the supply the more particular buyers become as regards quality, and for that reason the competition is often very close, causing fluctuations, and inferior boods must be sacrificed because the demand will only exist for that which is good. This fact should teach farmers the importance of esshould teach farmers the importance of estimating the expected receipts from the lowest quotations given instead of from the highest. One very farm something better than the average quality of produce may be obtained, but there is also more or less produce that is inferior. In order to dispose of all—the good and the inferior—the whole is sent to the market together. This occasions a loss, as the inferior produce will affect the prices to a marked degree, and lessens the amount that would otherwise be ob-tained if all articles were graded and shipped separately. It entails an increase in the cost of handling and transportation to send in bulk, without regard to quality, as it is more economical to retain the inferior articles on the farm, shipping only those that are choice, rather than attempting to increase the supply, and lessen the demand, by shipping all grades in one lot. The receipts from choice articles will be more than from a mixture, and the farmer, if he will carefully grade his articles, will, in a majority of cases, be well satisfied with the returns from the merchant. Quantity does not regulate the price alone. Should the market be fully supplied purchasers will continue to accept something better than that already in market, and will pay higher prices therefor. Quality rules in all transactions, and the farmer must keep this fact before him always if he expects to secure a fair profit. Thousands of tons of goods are annually sacrificed that would have been more valuable if kept away from market, but there has never been a time when choice goods did not bring fair prices, no matter how large the supply. It should be a rule with all shippers never to send anything to market that is not of the best quality. It costs too much, proportionately to receipts, to ship inferior produce, and, as quality regulates the prices, farmers should endeavor to pro-duce the best only, and thereby secure

The odor of Carolina tar, applied on the cracks and joints of hen-houses, is bene-ficial to the health of the occupants. Crude carbolic acid, applied to the under side of the perches is also a good thing.

Notwithstanding some breeds of cows seem to be better adapted to the dairy than others are, prize butter has been made from the milk of nearly every breed known to the American market.
